I have just returned from a month's trip to Europe and [redacted] has sent up to me your kind note of some weeks ago. I want to express to you my appreciation for all that you accomplished in the work of mutual interest and in this I am joined by all the others here who were associated in the work.

I trust that when you come East you will let me know so that we can get together. Meanwhile I hope that you will retain your old-time interest in the enterprise as I know they will have occasion to look to you for guidance.

Faithfully yours,

[redacted] Allen W. Dulles
